500 Jap Have Been Ordered to Report in Yokohama by Middle of March.

Vancouver, B.C., Jan. 6.—Five hundred Japanese on the reserve list have been called upon to report to the military authorities. Two hundred have already come from the state of Washington. Early Friday the American military authorities, supposedly from Annapolis or Bellingham, telegraphed and invited two hundred Japanese and their baggage, leaving without entering or clearing the customs.

The incident naturally aroused great interest here and enquiries developed that several hundred brown men have been recalled and may be in Vancouver by the middle of March. Many are already booked. Why they are being recalled by the military office is a mystery. A Nago, a prominent merchant here, declining to give any information, but said there were plenty of reserves in Japan who would naturally be called upon more than those in Canada or the United States.

AGRICULTURISTS WANT A COLLEGE

Must be Under Control of Department, they say, and Not Near University.

Calgary, Jan. 6.—Hon. W. T. Fisher, minister of agriculture, presided at the meeting of farmers' institute members held on Saturday afternoon. Delegates from all over the province were present. The object of the meeting was to bring a number of strong workers together for an interchange of ideas on the various branches of the work for the coming season.

One of the most important points brought up by every speaker was the need for a practical work in agriculture. A resolution was passed that an agricultural college be established in the province of Alberta, and that the university of the province should be under the control of the department of agriculture, and not of the provincial government.

The meeting was opened by a brief address from Hon. W. T. Fisher, minister of agriculture, presiding. He said that the government was anxious to see that the farmers' institute was under the control of the department of agriculture, and not of the provincial government.

GREAT BRITAIN GAVE FULL POWER

To Ministers Fielding and Broderick in the Negotiation of Franco-Canadian Treaty.

Ottawa, Jan. 6.—The correspondence relating to the negotiation of the Franco-Canadian trade treaty has been printed and will be presented to the House when it meets on Wednesday next. There is to be printed a schedule showing the classes of goods to which the tariff is applied. The French general tariff and the French minimum tariff are also shown. The French minimum tariff is shown in a few cases where it is lower than the French rate.

There is also a schedule of the Canadian rates in the article included in the treaty showing the Canadian general tariff, the British preferential tariff, and the French minimum tariff. The French minimum tariff is shown in a few cases where it is lower than the French rate.

In a few instances France has been shown to have a lower tariff than the British preference. However, when the schedule is made it will be announced that in all of these cases the rate to Great Britain will be reduced to the French rate.

British Government Will Endorse.
The most important statement in the correspondence is an undertaking by the British government to the French government to support the French minimum tariff in the negotiation of the Franco-Canadian trade treaty.

A VISITOR FROM DARKEST AFRICA

Father Benny and White-Robed Officer and Lady White-Robed Missionary.

An interesting visitor in Edmonton today recalls the fact that out on the sprawling white Sahara and the vast, dark, and desolate Africa, a small army of heroic missionaries are working for the civilization of the negro and the redemption of the slave trade. These are the White Fathers, founded in 1868 by the French monk, Cardinal Lavigerie. In their order are men from many kingdoms of Europe and a few from Canada and the States, though the great majority are men of French birth.

The ever-widening circle and the arduous work undertaken by these monks quickly says their strength, they will not continue long in the land of the white man, and other men must be sent to take their place. They are not to be taken to their home to hold them there, but to be sent to the land of the white man, and other men must be sent to take their place.

One of these White Fathers, worn out with malaria and fever, defied the white rule of the African mission, and in the hope of regaining his health, he fled to the city of Edmonton, and in the hope of regaining his health, he fled to the city of Edmonton.

Government work if properly managed may be made to exert a clearing influence in industrial conditions. Creating employment when employment is needed and withdrawing from workmen from the ordinary walks when the demand for workmen is great. To undertake Government enterprises when the demand for labor exceeds the supply is to increase the difficulty and to make both Government enterprises and private undertakings unduly expensive. But to launch such undertakings when the supply of labor exceeds the demand opens a field of opportunity to the

FRANCE IS ARMING.

And Germany is Arming—French Establishing Corps in Africa.

Berlin, January 6.—Much comment has been aroused in Germany by the report that France is preparing to build up the strength of her African empire in such a way that in case of a European war she will be prepared to fight on her own soil. The story is that the French government is sending the establishment of a volunteer corps of seven thousand African troops which latter will be greatly augmented. The New Orleans Bulletin says that reflects the views of the military party in this country, observes.

If the experiment is successful, not only will the Algerians be compelled to fight under their colors, but the native subjects of England as well as Morocco, may have to fight for France.

There is to alarm over this unique plan, but in Germany the military authorities will do well to wait developments. Perhaps the opportunity will be found at the next international peace conference to discuss the general question whether or not Germany has what is called the "Morocco committee," an aggressive group of capitalists and merchants interested in expanding European trade in Morocco, which is now urging the Kaiser's government to call an international congress to discuss the French progress in Morocco, which is described as assuming the character of a stealthy form of annexation.

Has a Tale Up His Sleeve.

Saskatoon, N.S. Jan. 5.—At the opposition convention held here yesterday, H. A. Powell, ex-M.P., referring to Dr. Pugh's charge that he had been sent from Montreal to West-Edmonton in 1904 to elect him, said if he was given, by Dr. Pugh, to making insinuations, he could not but be a man of no honor and no confidence. # PRINCE RUPERT IS THE SETTLER'S PROBLEM

Those Who Are in Business and How They Get Locations—The Cost of Living in the Grand Trunk Pacific Terminal.

In the Prince Rupert Empire some very interesting information is given in regard to conditions in the Pacific port of the new transcontinental line now under construction. The paper says:

"Prince Rupert is a townsite in which lots are not sold, because the townsite is not surveyed. The land is owned by the Grand Trunk Pacific railway company and when it is surveyed and plotted as a townsite every fourth block will belong to the province of British Columbia. A few acres adjoining the wharf have been laid out in lots—about 50 in all. Some of these lots are occupied under a 'license,' which gives the occupier no other right than the right to occupy the lot until the railway company is ready to sell it."

"There are a number of people here who would build if only they were assured of the right to purchase the lots on which they build once the lots are offered for sale; but as every fourth block of the townsite will be owned by the provincial government, the railway company does not know which blocks it will own and therefore no selections are made, so it cannot guarantee anything to them. When it gives permission to occupy lots."

Railway's Exclusion Policy.
"The policy of the railway company has been one of absolute exclusion, except to the few who had sufficient influence to displace local business men given the resident harbor engineer and the company's employees."

Outside of the railway company's employees and the half dozen business men who have been able to get through influence, the Empire is the only business venture in the port that has succeeded in getting a location without first getting permission from the railway company. The general manager.

"The Canadian Bank of Commerce occupies its own building, but the Canadian Bank of Commerce has more influence with the railway company than all the other banks in Canada put together."

The Kelly Carriers Supply Company, Limited, and the Prince Rupert Harbour and Shipping Company, Limited, occupy under a year's lease a building erected and owned by the railway company. Both companies have influence through their main shareholders and the high officials of the railway company."

"The Prince Rupert drug store is owned by the Haddon, Campbell & Mills Co., Ltd., but its place of business is a tent house built on a street. The Morrow & Co. drug store is also a tent house. It is presumed this firm has some connection with the railway influence with the railway company. The building it occupies probably belongs to the company."

"J. G. Moody has a barber shop in his own movable frame on a lot or part of one, under 'license' from the company."

"Two hotel buildings have been erected and are owned by the railway company, but they are not furnished or occupied."

English Church Established.
"The English church is owned by the congregation and is occupied by Bishop LeVernay as a residence."

"Three residents who are not employed by the railway company occupy residence buildings erected by themselves under 'license' from the railway company."

"A Chinese runs a laundry in a building that is probably owned by the railway company."

"The Calcutta Trading Company, Limited, owns the Calcutta Hotel, and makes Prince Rupert its home port. The company sells coal, and pays the G.T.P. for the use of the wharf on which the coal is piled."

"The Northern Trust company is a firm that will do business at real estate agents without asking permission from the railway company. Its office is in the Empire building."

"The Pacific Stevedoring and Contracting Company, Limited, does business at Prince Rupert, as it does at Vancouver, Victoria, Seattle, Tacoma and Chemainus. It has a contract for building the G.T.P. wharf, and it probably has one for doing the stevedoring for the railway company. Ken, Munro, one of the directors, makes his headquarters in Prince Rupert."

"The other residents of the town either occupy buildings owned by the company or temporary tent houses owned by themselves."

How Some Got Locations.
Last September several people were located on the land the railway company purchased from the Indians, but for which the province of British Columbia has refused to pass title. The owners of some of these claims have built cabins on them, and it is one of the claims that the Empire building stands, hence it is independent of the railway company. Title to the land will no doubt pass to the railway company in time, but mineral claim litigation has been known to last for decades, and in the meantime the Empire will be printed under its own shingle roof."

"The above is a fairly accurate description of the town of Prince Rupert, and the reasons why it is not built houses on the townsite."

What You Can Get.
Speaking of what can be obtained in the embryo city, the Empire gives the following list with the prices which have to be paid:

"Rice at 5 cents a pound. Ham at 25 cents a pound. Butter at 42 1/2 a thousand. Hot baths at 50 cents each. Ale, the best in the world. Ice. Wood yellow cedar, at $100 a cord. Church service, free every Sunday. Meals, cooked by a chef, at 50 cents to $1.00. Trench, at 25 cents to $1.00. Bacon, Swift's sweetest, at 30 cents a pound. Kain water, the best in British Columbia, free. The Empire every Saturday at 10 cents a copy (it is a four-page sheet of four columns to the page). Apples from orchards in Kootenai, at 8 cents a pound. Flour, made from No. 1 hard wheat, at $1.00 to $2.00 a bushel. Bread, baked by the mother of three children, at 10 cents a loaf. Coal oil, made by John D. Rockefeller, at $1.75 for a five-gallon can. Coal mined at Ladysmith, at $10.50 a ton on the G.T.P. wharf. Coffee, made by coffee grinders, at 40 cents to 50 cents a pound. Electric light, made at a sawmill, at $1 a month per 16 c.p. lamp. Sugar, made at Vancouver by the Sugar Trust at 6 cents a pound by the sack. Fresh meats, slaughtered at Vancouver by Pat Russell, at 15 cents to 20 cents a pound. Potatoes, grown at Metlakatla by natives of that village, at $1.50 a hundred pounds. Lamb, made at Port Essington, Georgetown and Real Harbor, at $1.75 to $2.00 a pound. Mineral claims, to be sold for the staking on land created by the Creator assisted by Nature."

What a man can get by the way.
The things that cannot be got are: Beds, unless you borrow one from a friend. Scotch whisky, unless you get it from a friend who has a bottle. Amusements, unless you are a speculator on when the Yukon telegram line will be up can be called an amusement. Land, not a square foot on which to place your foot, but can be had for love or money except by permission of F. W. Moore, manager of the G.T.P., who lives 3000 miles away."

A VISITOR FROM DARKEST AFRICA.

his neck a huge hippopotamus tooth for a symbol of his rank. His subjects were naked, only oiling their skins with various oils and unguents. They did not take kindly to clothes. One native chief, who was presented with a pair of trousers, wore them for a few hours; then flung them from him with impatience. He could not walk fast or run with such things on him, he declared. The women were presented with clothing invariably hung them on their heads or about their necks."

In this land of delights for the masculine half of humanity, women does all the service work, while the men sit about smoking or go off to the forest to hunt. Naturally, the men who have the most wives fared the best in the world, and they vie with each other in having a large harem. Nor are they inclined to depart from this practice of polygamy."

The "Sleeping Sickness."
The first of the two branches of commerce is to bring ivory to Zanzibar and sell it there, receiving cloth and beads and ornaments in return. The equivalent of $3 for a pound of ivory. Each elephant's tusk yields about 60 pounds of ivory. But good ivory is becoming more and more rare, as the negroes are killing off the elephants in such numbers that the ivory trade is threatened."

Dangerous Moments.
The missionary has been without some narrow escapes from death at the hands of inimical natives. On one occasion he was attacked by a chief, who held him for his supposed belief in the slave traffic among the natives. On two occasions he escaped being poisoned by a banana extract which they serve as refreshment. He carries also with him all the marks of a lance on his breast, where he was attacked by one of his subjects in the forest one day. The missionary was without time, but he sprang at the man throwing him to the ground, and, with difficulty, holding the slippery, tiled body of naked native stunned him by his blow on the head, in which way he had him in the physical power of the slave."

Brought down the man's limbs he brought some of his subjects to the place, and the culprit was carried to the village where Father Bonny as chief tried him for his terrible crime of lese majesty. The councilors and sub-chiefs argued among themselves as to what form of death should be meted out to him—either the chair or the gallows, or by the spear, by poison or by ants. This last is a horrible torture, a man being bound in a standing position in the sand, his mouth forced open and kept that way by means of a stick, while his ants are sent in hosts down the unfortunate's throat. The torture lasts for days, as the negro is slowly devoured."

The Christian's Chief and White Father.
The Christian chief and White Father ordered the man liberated, to the astonishment and disgust of his assembled subjects. They protested, but it was useless. The chief had spoken, and as they hesitated to do his bidding, he sent himself to the culprit and loosened his bonds, letting him go. The savage, overcome with relief, fell at the missionary's feet, kissing his hands and those, and for the rest of his stay with the Basouito was the White Father's most devoted servant."

Killed Many Lions.
A question by the journalist concerning the large lion, or claw worn by Father Bonny on his watch-chain, elicited the reply that it was a claw of the first lion he had killed. Then further questioning disclosed that it was a most usual thing for a man living near the forest of the Basouito to kill two and three lions a month. Father Bonny did not consider lion-killing a remarkable feat at all, and was like most of the other male inhabitants of the country killed so many that he had all kinds of them."

Savages Are Quickly.
Wild animals abound in this region and between the deaths caused by them, the intestine wars of the tribes and the bad climate, the Basouito have the same other troubles. The Basouito are a people of ten years is a coarse, aging woman at twenty-five. All the savages in fact age quickly. An old custom obtains in one tribe, where the married woman is distinguished from the unmarried woman by a small broom or whisk suspended by a cord from her waist behind. It had a drooping appearance, and to the Basouito seemed quite an odd and unbecoming as it did to their white chief. This is only one instance of the great difference that exists in the customs and language among these African tribes."

Will Refine Concentrates at Home.
Nelson, B.C., Jan. 6.—Refinements in the first plant at Trail have now reached a point which makes it unsatisfactory for the Consolidated company to make any further shipments to St. Eugene. The concentrates to Europe. In future, the concentrates will all be handled and refined locally. During the past several years Consolidated has shipped thousands of tons of these concentrates have been made with European firms for shipment to Antwerp and Rotterdam, where concentrates have always found a ready market in competition with the Australian lead concentrates."

the same way the Indians did the buffalo in Canada. Their journey out to Zanzibar takes three months, each man carrying 60 pounds of ivory. Camel are not used here, because the "leprosy" attacks and kills them. The ravages of this terrible sickness have been seen in all its stages by Father Bonny."

Profr. Koch was sent out here by the German government, which has a protectorate over this region, to study into the cause and nature of this terrible sickness, but he was handicapped by his ignorance of the native language and habits. Father Bonny has studied the disease in all its stages. The period of incubation lasts for two years; and at the first stage the body swells up and the affected person sleeps all the time. Then the body grows very thin, and still he sleeps. The last stage he is very painful and loathsome and the unfortunate person invariably dies of it. No remedy has been found yet for it."

Wives Worth 80 Cents.
There is no form of burial among these people. The body is simply left to the hyenas to destroy. Slaves or wives are bought for less than a dollar. Marriage takes place first when a girl is nine or eleven years of age. She may be bought then for goods or beads worth 30 cents. When she is fifteen or sixteen she is worth eighty cents. For food in this benighted place they have the flesh of the large white ants, as long as a man's finger, big grasshoppers, bananas, milk and a small grain called sorghum, which is ground and mixed in a paste, then served with a sauce of berries. The evening is easily done, each person at the dinner taking a roll of stuff, making a hole in it with his thumb and pouring in the sauce."

Amusing incidents occur occasionally. One day a man was seen to be carrying a large fish on his back. He was followed by a crowd of people, and when he reached the village he was found to be carrying a large fish on his back. where Father Bonny as chief tried him for his terrible crime of lese majesty. The councilors and sub-chiefs argued among themselves as to what form of death should be meted out to him—either the chair or the gallows, or by the spear, by poison or by ants. This last is a horrible torture, a man being bound in a standing position in the sand, his mouth forced open and kept that way by means of a stick, while his ants are sent in hosts down the unfortunate's throat. The torture lasts for days, as the negro is slowly devoured."

The Christian's Chief and White Father.
The Christian chief and White Father ordered the man liberated, to the astonishment and disgust of his assembled subjects. They protested, but it was useless. The chief had spoken, and as they hesitated to do his bidding, he sent himself to the culprit and loosened his bonds, letting him go. The savage, overcome with relief, fell at the missionary's feet, kissing his hands and those, and for the rest of his stay with the Basouito was the White Father's most devoted servant."

Killed Many Lions.
A question by the journalist concerning the large lion, or claw worn by Father Bonny on his watch-chain, elicited the reply that it was a claw of the first lion he had killed. Then further questioning disclosed that it was a most usual thing for a man living near the forest of the Basouito to kill two and three lions a month. Father Bonny did not consider lion-killing a remarkable feat at all, and was like most of the other male inhabitants of the country killed so many that he had all kinds of them."

Savages Are Quickly.
Wild animals abound in this region and between the deaths caused by them, the intestine wars of the tribes and the bad climate, the Basouito have the same other troubles. The Basouito are a people of ten years is a coarse, aging woman at twenty-five. All the savages in fact age quickly. An old custom obtains in one tribe, where the married woman is distinguished from the unmarried woman by a small broom or whisk suspended by a cord from her waist behind. It had a drooping appearance, and to the Basouito seemed quite an odd and unbecoming as it did to their white chief. This is only one instance of the great difference that exists in the customs and language among these African tribes."

SYNOPSIS OF CANADIAN NORTH-WEST HOMESTEAD REGULATIONS.

Any even numbered section of Dominion Lands in Manitoba or the North-West, of more or less than 20 acres, not reserved, may be homesteaded by any person the sole head of a family, or male over 18 years of age, to the extent of one-quarter section, of 160 acres, more or less. Application for homestead entry must be made in person by the applicant at a Dominion Lands Agency or a sub-agency. Entry by proxy may, however, be made at an agency on certain conditions by the father, mother, son, daughter, brother or sister of an intending homesteader.

An application for entry or cancellation must be made at an agency. An agent's office may be wired to the Agent by the Sub-Agent, at the expense of the applicant, and if the land applied for is vacant on receipt of the telegram such application is to have priority and the land will be held until the necessary papers to complete the transaction are received by mail.

In case of "personation" or fraud the applicant will forfeit all priority of claim or if entry has been granted it will be summarily cancelled. An application for cancellation must be made in person. The applicant must be eligible for homestead entry, and will be received from an individual until that application has been disposed of.

Where an entry is cancelled subsequent to institution for cancellation proceedings, the applicant for cancellation will be entitled to priority right of entry.

Application for cancellation must state in what particulars the homesteader is in default. A homesteader whose entry is not the subject of cancellation proceedings, may, subject to the approval of the department, relinquish it in favor of father, mother, son, daughter, brother or sister, if eligible, but to no one else, on filing declaration of abandonment.

Second Annual Stock-Taking Sale

Huge Success

We believed that the announcement of our sale would create a great deal of interest, but we were hardly prepared for the enthusiasm displayed by our customers that thronged our store all day Friday and Saturday. We are pleased because we believe this a tribute to the genuineness of the bargains we are offering—of course we are offering great reductions—but price reductions alone will not account for the great selling that has opened this sale. Every article or garment offered during this sale are new seasonable goods and of the best quality. Each day from now until January 15th will have inducements of its own, and each and every one will do its part to make this WHIRL OF BARGAINS one of the greatest sales this store has ever had or it's customers ever participated in. We strongly advise you to be in the throng of buyers at this sale—a sale such as you have rarely, if ever, seen before in Edmonton.
